BELMONT PUT UP $250,000

Gift to Parker Campaign Fund Made the Rest Look Like Pikers.

SAYS HE DIDN'T EXPECT FAVORS

But Made His Big Contribution Purely as a Democrat.

Washington, July 16.—A quarter of a million dollars was the estimate which August Belmont, testifying today before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions, placed upon his contribution to the democratic national committee in 1904. He was not sure that was the sum, but was "satisfied to let it go at that."

"My habit has been that if I feel responsible for anything, my obligation is not measured by dollars and cents," said Mr. Belmont when Senator Paynter asked if his huge contribution embarrassed him.

Mr. Belmont was a member of the campaign executive committee that year.

Mr. Belmont told first of advancing $50,000 to the democratic national committee. He said he had been reimbursed $42,000.

"Those committees always start out that way," he explained. "They ask for advance and then begin to raise funds. Later they reimburse me no

HILLES OFF TO START CAMPAIGN

Republican Chairman Goes to New York to Begin Organization.

PLANS NOT MATURED

Washington, July 16.—Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the republican national committee, left Washington early today for New York to organize the campaign for the re-election of President Taft. Mr. Hilles, it was said today, has not severed his connection with the white house and it is believed that he will resume his post as secretary to the president next November.

Mr. Hilles has not settled many of the problems incidental to his new position. He left Washington with no distinct idea as to the personnel of the office force he will employ. His first selection probably will be the director of his literary bureau. R. V. O'Neil, former Washington correspondent of the New York Sun, has been considered for this place.

Mr. Hilles is not expected to spend all his time in New York, but will be in frequent consultation with the president and other party leaders here as long as congress is in session and is expected to visit the headquarters to be established in Chicago and the west.

SURE, CHAMP AND WOODROW ARE FRIENDS

SPEAKER CLARK AND WOODROW WILSON SNAPPED AT GOV. WILSON'S HOME IN SEAGIRT N. J.—THEIR FIRST MEETING SINCE THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION.

BAILEY OPENS FIRE ON TAFT

Texan Scores President for His Attitude in the Lorimer Case.

HELD OFFICIOUS AND MIDDLESONE

Says President Ought to Be Condemned for Interference.

Washington, July 16.—Senator Bailey attacked President Taft roundly on the floor of the senate today for his attitude on the Lorimer case, which the Texas senator characterized as "officious and middle-some." He was referring to the president's expressions on the case in pre-convention speeches and letters to Colonel Roosevelt.

The Texas senator was speaking to his resolution of yesterday, declaring that any attempted interference in senatorial contests by the president constituted a "violation of the spirit, if not the letter of the constitution and ought to be severely condemned."

"Executive interference in a contest involving a seat in this body is so manifestly improper," said Senator Bailey, beginning his attack upon the president, "that it must seem very improbable, if the facts did not prove beyond the question of a doubt that the president did use influences in the case recently before the senate."

Senator Bailey based his resolution, he said, on the president's speech April 25, 1912, when he made public a letter written January 6, 1911, to Colonel Roosevelt, giving his views of the fight on Lorimer.

As the clerk began, at Senator Bailey's request, to read the president's letter, which opened with the words: "My Dear Theodore," the senator interrupted: "He would not use that term now, perhaps."

Even if the president had a right to use his power to influence the vote, Senator Bailey charged he acted erroneously because in the letter of January 6, 1911, Mr. Taft wrote he had only read "such of the evidence as he could get at."

Mr. Bailey declared the president had not read a line of the evidence because it had not been printed until January 7. Senator Borah challenged that statement and declared the committee print of the evidence was available before the Christmas holidays.

"Is it fair to try a man of his good name—of what is dearer than his name—on such evidence as I could get at?" demanded Senator Bailey. He went on to quote President Taft's statement in the letter to the effect that he had been urging senators to read the record carefully.

"In God's name, has the senate reached such a state of degradation," he cried, "that the president must summon senators to the white house to urge them to discharge their duty under their oath of office?"

"Senator Bailey declared that the clause in the president's letter suggesting to Colonel Roosevelt that he withhold his Outlook article on Lorimer lest such senators as Bailey, who were intent on keeping Lorimer in the senate, might term it outside interference, was an intimation that he would not vote according to the law and evidence, but on the ground of outside interference."

MAY BE WARNED TO FLEE MEXICO

Five Hundred Americans With Families Face Rebel Raids.

SITUATION IS ACUTE

Juarez, July 16.—More than five hundred American citizens, together with their wives and families in towns along the Mexican Northwestern railway, are threatened with isolation far from the American border with scant means of escaping depredations of Mexican rebels.

Sufficient facts became known today of the real situation along the Mexican Northwestern to warrant the statement that it would cause no surprise if the Americans in all the towns along the line were warned to leave Mexico at once.

General Pascual Orozco, Jr., within the last twenty-four hours had ordered the Mexican Northwestern railroad destroyed between Pearson and Medora, twenty-seven miles southwest of here, but the order has been mysteriously rescinded.

Though the destruction of the Northwestern for a hundred miles in a mountainous region, where it cannot be rebuilt for months, has been delayed, officials of the road are in constant fear that it may be done at any moment.

The railroad is owned by the Pearson interests, a British corporation, which likewise owns the Madera Lumber company. Nearly all of the employees, however, numbering more than five hundred, are Americans. The quarry before the officials today was to whom to apply.

It was said they did not wish to ask the British government to make representations for protection, for while the property is British, the employees are American. For the Pearson officials, on the other hand, to order an exodus of their employees would mean to leave the property and supplies at the mercy

FATHER ADVISES SON TO COMMIT SUICIDE: BELIEVES HE DID SO.

New York, July 16.—Samuel Swartz, father of Nathan Swartz, the young man wanted by the police in connection with the murder of the child, Julia Connors, in the Bronx last week, acknowledged today in a statement made to Assistant District Attorney Nott, that his son had confessed to him that he had killed the child and that he had told his son to go out and commit suicide. The father, in his statement, said he believed the boy did as he was told.

MEETS DEATH IN THE HUNT

Hubert Latham, the Famous Airman, is Killed by Wild Buffalo.

IS TRAMPLED TO DEATH IN JUNGLE

Noted Monoplane Aviator, Pioneer in Aerial Navigation.

Paris, July 16.—Hubert Latham, the famous Anglo-French aviator and one of the pioneers of heavier-than-air aviation, was killed by a wild buffalo June 7, during a hunt in the French Congo.

MONS. HUBERT LATHAM AT THE WHEEL OF HIS ANTIQUETTE

The governor general of French Equatorial Africa, in telegraphing the news today to the minister of the colonies, says Latham was out with a number of natives in the forest when he shot and wounded a buffalo, which immediately charged him and gored and trampled him to death.

Latham's death occurred on the Chari river, near the Bahr Es Salamat, practically in the center of the French Sudan, in the direction of Lake Chad.

Hubert Latham, who was the first aviator to make any notable flights in a monoplane, the Antiquette, acquired fame as a very young man. In February, 1905, in company with his cousin, Jacques Faure, he made a balloon trip across the English channel, voyaging

MISSING MAY BE FLOOD VICTIMS

Search of Wreckage is Going Forward at Denver.

RELIEVING DISTRESS

Denver, Colo., July 16.—The cloud-burst and flood in Cherry creek Sunday night has passed into history, leaving a great heap of debris, deposits of sand and mud in buildings and along the boulevards and the ruins of wrecked homes and with two known fatalities. The list of injured has swelled to eight.

The mayor's relief committee began this morning the final search of the wreckage for it is believed the score reported as missing are flood victims.

The 500 refugees from flood districts are destitute of everything but the clothing they were when driven from the district. They will be cared for by the city until the last are rehabilitated. Rooms at hotels have been hired for some not accommodated at the auditorium.

Of the million dollar flood loss placed on personal property by Mayor Arnold in his revised estimate, more than half falls upon the stock in the wholesale and warehouse district.

Quantities of stored foodstuffs have been disposed of at less than half price because of water damage. Few of the concerns in the district carried flood insurance.

FOLLOWS CODE A CENTURY OLD

Senate as High Court of Impeachment in Archbald Case.

ISSUES A SUMMONS

Washington, July 16.—Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the commerce court, the ninth man in the history of the United States, to be impeached for "high crimes and misdemeanors," was summoned today before the senate to stand trial upon charges made by the house.

When the court of impeachment resumed after 3 o'clock this afternoon a summons for Judge Archbald, returnable on July 19, was issued. Whether the trial will immediately go on or be postponed until fall or winter, probably will be decided then. The court then adjourned until 12:30 p. m. Friday.

PUTS KILLING UP TO POLICE

Widow of a Gambler Who Made Graft Charge is Accuser.

WAS SHOT DOWN IN NEW YORK STREET

Officers Capture One and Auto in Which Assassins Got Away.

New York, July 16.—The efforts of the police to run down the five men who early today shot the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, to death in front of the Hotel Metropole but a few hours before he was to give evidence against the police about gambling graft, has resulted today in the arrest of three men.

The identity of but one of them as a member of the party who did the shooting has as yet been established to the satisfaction of the police. This man, according to Deputy Commissioner Dougherty, is Louis Libby, who drove the automobile in which the party rode to the Metropole. He was arraigned before the coroner and charged with murder but refused to make a statement.

One of the other two prisoners the police were obliged to call "John Doe," because of his refusal to tell his name or give any information as to the shooting, although, according to the police, he was in the hotel at the time. The other prisoner was William S. Shapiro, said to be a partner of Libby, and who was arrested at the garage where the automobile was found.

Although evidence as to the motive of the shooting as thus far gathered seems to show that Rosenthal had feared death at the hands of the police, the theory was brought forward today that Rosenthal had really been the victim of the so-called "gambling fraternity," which took the opportunity afforded by Rosenthal's activity against the police to seek revenge for his "squealing" on them. It was learned that a belief that Rosenthal was "to get his" was current among frequenters of various Tenderloin resorts and a subject of common discussion some time before the shooting took place.

HAD FEARED DEATH.

Victim's Widow Puts the Murder Up to Police.

New York, July 16.—Herman Rosenthal, proprietor of a gambling house here, whose sensational charges that the police were guilty of grafting and oppression were to be investigated today by the grand jury, was shot down and killed in front of the Hotel Metropole early this morning by five men who escaped in a large gray touring car.

Rosenthal was murdered only a few hours before he was to appear in the house of District Attorney Whitman and give further statements in an effort to substantiate the police grafting charges.

Within three hours after the murder detectives visited a garage on Washington square, known to the police as the headquarters of the taxi cab robbers, who recently robbed bank messengers of $25,000, and captured a man describing himself as Louis Libby, whom they made a prisoner on the charge of homicide. The police also recovered an automobile that they say was the one that figured in the murder.

Deputy Commissioner Dougherty asserted that eye-witnesses to the murder of Rosenthal identified Libby as one of the quintette who drove up in front of the hotel and calling the gambler from the diningroom to the sidewalk, shot him down with a fusillade of bullets and then fled in the motor car. Rosenthal was shot five times in the head.

Puts It Up to Police.

Mrs. Sadie Rosenthal, widow of the gambler, in a statement to District Attorney Whitney, put the assassination of her husband squarely up to the police. She said she warned her husband that if he kept an appointment last night he would come to a violent end. She said

PAY A VISIT TO MARSHALL

Twenty Members of National Committee Call on Nominee.

GIVE GREETINGS AT STATE HOUSE

Pledge Hearty Support as They Call to Pay Respects.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 16.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, democratic candidate for vice president, today received at the state capital twenty members of the democratic national committee, who at the invitation of Thomas Taggart, committeeman from Indiana, had stopped in this city on their way home from the organization meeting at Chicago.

Escorted by democratic marching clubs, the committeemen rode in automobiles from their hotel to the state house, where they were presented to Governor Marshall by Mr. Taggart.

"We are here representing the national committee to pay its respects to you, governor, as the running mate of Woodrow Wilson and the next vice president of the United States," said Mr. Taggart.

Speeches pledging enthusiastic co-operation during the campaign under the leadership of Governor Wilson and Marshall were made by Robert S. Hudspeth, of New Jersey; Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania; Martin J. Wade, of Iowa, and Joseph Davis, of Wisconsin, secretary of the committee.

Mr. Palmer Speaks.

"In coming to greet you, governor," said Mr. Palmer, "the national committee shows its pride in the ticket and declares its allegiance to the great cause you and Governor Wilson represent. We enter this campaign in fullest confidence that the patriotism of the American people will result in the election in November of Wilson and Marshall."

In responding, Governor Marshall said he "did not know whether he was 'progressive' or not," and continued, "There are many kinds of 'progressives' nowadays. One believes in taking the tariff off Iowa products, and another supports the opposite policy. I am not

CONVENTION OF A. O. H. BEGINS

Over 1,000 Delegates in Chicago for Annual Meeting.

MAY AMEND RULES

Chicago, Ill., July 16.—More than one thousand delegates to the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians are in Chicago today.

Preceding the initial meeting scheduled for today, the delegates attended a solemn pontifical mass, celebrated by Archbishop James E. Quigley, at Holy Name cathedral. Bishop John P. Carroll, of Helena, Mont., delivered the sermon.

Later the delegates were welcomed at their convention hall by Mayor Carter H. Harrison. The principal business of the convention is said to be a change in the constitution that will enable the society to include individual insurance of its members.

The women's auxiliary of the order also will hold daily meetings until Thursday, when the convention will end.

The Next to Be Locked Up

WHEN little Constance Stegner, of 190 Lombard avenue, heard her father say that he and his small son, Carl, were going to Swinney park Sunday to hear former Mayor Seidel, of Milwaukee, make a political speech, she was interested at once. Mr. Stegner is a member of the dry goods firm of Reiling & Stegner.

Constance is 7 years of age. While her father and brother were gone she thought the situation over carefully and awaited their return with some impatience. She had asked her brother where they were going and he had told her that they were going to hear a man make a speech and to talk about who was to be the next president.

Carl had listened to the speech with much interest and when he got home he was willing and anxious to tell what he had heard. Constance was just as anxious to listen.

"How did it come out?" asked Constance.

"How did what come out?" responded Carl.

"The speech," responded Constance, "who is going to be the next president?"

"Prisoner! Who said anything about the next prisoner?"

"Why, yes, you did."

"How did it come out?"

"No, I didn't—I said 'the next president.'"

"Oh," responded Constance, her interest subsiding when she found the subject wasn't as exciting as she had anticipated, "I thought you said 'the next prisoner' and I just wanted to know."

HEARS "O. K." ON BANK BOOKS BEFORE HE ENDS LIFE BY HANGING.

WILLIAM B. HALE, Geneva Banker Who Ended His Life by Hanging on Monday.

Geneva, Ind., July 16.—Before he hanged himself in a barn at his home here yesterday, William B. Hale, assistant cashier of the Bank of Geneva, and a prominent and influential business man heard the state bank examiners place their "O. K." on his books at the bank, which he had spent some hours in giving the regular examination required by law.

Hale had spent Monday morning delving into the books with the two bank examiners and at noon the officials gave out the statement that they were all right.

Shortly afterward, his face grew pale, he complained of having a headache and said he was going out to get some fresh air.

He went home and kissed his wife, then going to the barn, fastened a rope about his neck and shortly afterward his body, still warm, was found by his son, William, hanging from a rafter.

Mr. Hale was prominent in affairs of the order of the Eastern Star, having served as grand patron of the grand chapter of the order. Aside from Masonry, his hobby was amateur photography.

"It would be hard to say which I like best," Hale said recently, "because there is no comparison. I guess the answer is both."

Hale was 45 years old and the son of Silas W. Hale, vice president of the bank. He leaves a widow and three children. It is believed that excessive heat and overwork produced the mental derangement which led Hale to take his life. The body had been hanging but a few minutes when it was discovered and two physicians worked for several hours in the fruitless effort to resuscitate the suicide.

NEWSBOYS' CITY DAILY SENTINEL

MOTTO: "GOOD BOYS MAKE GOOD MEN."

VOL. 1, NO. 3. NEWSBOYS' CITY, IND., TUESDAY, JULY 16, 1912. SIMON MAIER, Editor.

ISN'T IT THE GLAD SMILE?

FELIX MAIER, Mayor of Newsboys' City.

FELIX GETS IT.

Maier Had Chosen Mayor of Newsboys' City—Other Winners.

As a result of the exciting election last night Felix Maier was elected the first mayor of the first newsboys' city in the world.

Felix won by a close margin over Charley Meyers, who was then honored by being chosen to the responsible position of manager of the municipal general store, the institution which is the only source of revenue to the city.

Carl Stang, who had no opposition in his aspirations to be president of the bank, was, of course, conceded the election before the balloting began.

Rex Jackson was chosen postmaster and it will be his duty to see that papers and other communications which come by way of the interurban line and other means are properly distributed.

Harold Kruse was chosen chief of police, and it will be his duty not to keep the boys quiet (that would be impossible) but to see that the laws of the city are kept by the visitors, as well as by the citizens.

Nimmer DeWood was elected sheriff. Readers are asked to notice another article in this paper concerning Nimmer.

Jackson White is the librarian, and he will also have charge of the news stand.

The board of safety is composed of Clifton McKinnis, Clifton Bullis and Harry Lloyd. This board will make all the laws of the city and the responsibility resting upon them is something awful.

The race for mayor between Felix and Charley was very warm, but entirely friendly, and there was a warm contest on for the postmastership between Rex Jackson and Hugh Swatwood and the outcome was a very close vote. The race for chief of police between Harold Kruse and Charley Weinans was also a nip-and-tuck contest. The election was held in the assembly tent where the boys gathered right after supper last night. Hazen Johnson, a former newsboy, was called to act as chairman. Some lively scenes followed, but quiet was restored and the balloting followed, with the results as given. Congratulations followed and everybody was more than happy.

Business men donated a good many things for the boys to sell in their general store.

The boys will be glad to get the loan of torches or lanterns. The city is poorly lighted.

Dr. Schrader donated a pretty big tent, 12 by 14 feet, which makes a fine dining tent—our hotel, we call it.

Some of the boys are having such a good time that they lie awake and talk about it. One of these is Bruno Bauer, but Mr. Phelps rolled out and made him quit talking and keeping the other boys awake.

The boys thought they would have lots of weeds to cut, but they didn't find any weeds here at all.

THE NEWSBOYS DAILY SENTINEL is published during the existence of the Newsboys City by the boys who sell the Fort Wayne Daily papers on the streets.

THE NEWSBOYS CITY, the first of its kind in the world, was established by Charles A. Phelps, formerly a newsboy, whose interest in the welfare of the boys has attracted wide spread commendation.

THE CITY is located south of the city limits, and may be reached best by the use of the South Calhoun street car line. From the end of the line, walk six squares south. If the Decatur interurban line is used, get off at stop 1 and walk three squares west.

THE NEWSBOYS will each have one week's outing, one half of the street sellers being the citizens during the first week and the other half during the second week.

HONORED BY THE NEWSBOYS.

HAROLD KRUSE, Chief of Police.

JACKSON WHITE, Librarian.

These are two of the newsboys chosen to positions of trust at last night's election. Both were elected on a progressive platform.

THE BANKER'S FIRST DEPOSIT.

The reason that Carl Stang had no opposition in his race to be president of the bank is that he is so well liked that none of the other boys would oppose him when they found out he wanted the place. Banker Stang's first receipts were the money received from the sale of things in the general store on Sunday and also a cash contribution of $5 from Henry M. Williams. It has been thoroughly understood that cash donations are not being asked for, but Mr. Williams insisted and so the money has been accepted with thanks and placed on deposit. Banker Stang has started an account in one of the down town savings banks, and if any money is left after this year's outing it will be used to help buy tents for next year.

WHY HAVE A SHERIFF?

Tomorrow's Newsboys' City Daily Sentinel will answer the question which many are asking, namely, "Why have a sheriff when the city also has a chief of police?" There is a mystery connected with this, and it will be explained in tomorrow's Sentinel. The article will contain a lively picture of Sheriff Nimmer DeWood, together with a cartoon drawn by the sheriff showing what he intends to do if any boy should happen to be caught with a cigarette. Be sure to watch for tomorrow's paper.

Frank Drage, who donated his services for a part of two days, as well as the use of his truck in gathering up the camp materials and taking them to the Newsboys' City, did the boys a splendid turn.

The ferocious appetite of the boys makes it seem at the present time that even the generous donations received will not meet the requirements. Meat and canned goods are especially needed. A good many visitors are using the Decatur interurban line.

COLONEL WANTS HIS OWN PARTY

Will Not Seek to Capture the Republican Organization.

MAKES POINT CLEAR

Colonel Roosevelt laid out for himself last night. He took issue with supporters who have advanced a proposal for effecting an agreement with the republican organization in some states through which, under certain conditions, the strength of the Roosevelt following might be thrown behind President Taft. The colonel will have none of it.

"I shall not acquiesce," he said.

Colonel Roosevelt made it clear that he had decided upon a thorough-going fight, independent of alliance with either party, which will put him in a position to appeal to democrats as well as republicans. In states in which his followers have control of the republican organization he is ready to carry on his campaign through that medium. But he will sanction no entangling agreements.

"No compromise" is to be his battlecry.

The ex-president was prompted to make his position definitely known by reports that in several states, notably Pennsylvania and Maryland, a movement was on foot to have the same candidates for electors on both the Taft and Roosevelt tickets, with the agreement that the ticket which received the larger number of votes should obtain the entire electoral vote. William Flynn, of Pittsburgh, and other Roosevelt leaders in Pennsylvania, the ex-president heard, had announced themselves in favor of the plan with the idea that by this method the Roosevelt and Taft strength would be united against the democratic ticket. The colonel said emphatically that there would be no bargaining of this nature if he could prevent it. It is his purpose to make his fight with such supporters as are willing to assist in the formation of a genuinely new party. It was confident, however, that the stand he took would not bring about a break with those who favor the plan he vetoed.

"If this plan should be put through in Pennsylvania or elsewhere, will there be a split?" he was asked.

"I don't think there will be any break," he replied.

He took the ground that, having declared the nomination of President Taft fraudulent, and having taken the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal," as his precept, he could not consent to a bargain with his opponents in the republican party. His declaration was regarded as a final answer to those of his followers who have wished to lay less emphasis upon the new party idea and support Colonel Roosevelt on the ground that he was the rightful nominee of the republican party.

COUNTY OPTION TO BE FEATURED

Allen County Townships Want Republican Delegates to Vote for It.

TO WORK FOR UNION

While there is a movement on foot in Allen county among the republicans to bring the Taft and Roosevelt factions together for both the state and congressional conventions, certain committees have reported to Chairman A. E. Houk, that their townships will select only delegates who will insist that a plank asking for the return of county local option be inserted in the state platform. Prominent among townships holding this view are Monroe, Madison and a few of the townships in the northern portion of the county.

Mr. Houk intended to call a meeting of the republican central committee late this week, but owing to the fact that most of the committeemen have been in to see him during the last two days he has given up the plan. It is Mr. Houk's desire to get the Roosevelt crowd to go with the so-called Taft republicans to the state convention August 6 and assist in nominating a state ticket.

"I see no reason for an independent organization in the state," said Mr. Houk. "The Roosevelt men ought to feel good over conditions in Indiana, as many of the district and county tickets now nominated have progressive names on them, and the Roosevelt men in Allen county ought to feel particularly good over the local situation."

"Most of the county committeemen feel that it would be wrong to nominate an independent, or third party ticket in the state."

Progressive For Congress.

"I believe that a good strong progressive candidate will be nominated at the Kendallville convention August 12," continued Mr. Houk. "Any number of republicans in Allen county would like to see it, and I will make it my particular duty to hold the party together in the county."

"There is no disposition on the part of the Taft people in the county to select any particular set of delegates for the state convention, and I believe that only one set of candidates will be voted for at the primaries."

WHISKY PAID FOR LOTS.

Old Deed Shows Part Payment Jan in 1820.

Connersville, Ind., July 16.—The only land transaction of record in Fayette county in which whisky figured as legal tender is described in a book of deed records at the county recorder's office. The indenture, made in 1820, is written with a quill and is brown with age. It sets forth that Henry Good, of the town of Waterloo, conveyed two lots in the town to one James Sutton, under the express agreement that Sutton pay to him $349 in good whisky. The indenture says that one hundred gallons shall be paid three months after date, one hundred gallons at the end of six months, and so on till the debt was paid. The amount of liquor required is not indicated. It is expressly provided that Henry Good shall furnish barrels to hold the liquor. The language of the instrument is as quaint as its purport. The transaction recalls earlier land deals with Indians, in which liquor was frequently made to serve as money.

NEWSPAPERS ARE SIMPLY HORRID

Musical Missionary Deplores Tendency of the Press.

WHAT THEY ASK HER

San Francisco, Cal., July 16.—Madame Katherine Evans von Klenner, president of the New York Women's Press club and one of the most eminent vocal teachers America has ever produced, desires to know what is the matter with the newspapers.

"It is not your western papers I complain of," she said. "They seem to have a purpose, to wish to publish something true and worth while. But our New York papers—"

The madame threw up her hands.

"They are awful; and I have forbidden them to mention my name. Why, the reporters never ask me anything but some foolishness about whether or not I have quarreled with any of my friends or whether some one has perhaps been rude to me. It is dreadful and I wonder the public does not rebel."

"I am founder of the Women's Philharmonic Society of New York and I am staying in America just to do missionary work in a musical way. You know my husband—yes, he's living and a very nice man, thank you. This with a twinkle in her eyes.

"As I was saying, my husband is the son of Field Marshal von Klenner, of Austria; and we could live beautifully and most happily in Europe. But I feel that Americans need some one to help them learn how to sing.

"Certainly you would think so if you lived in New York. Why, the papers there actually send the rapt critics to report my concerts. One of these critics has retired from the newspaper business of late and opened a vocal class. He has looked down the throats of so many singers he thinks he ought to know just how they sing. He ought, but he doesn't."

"Man is the only creature that does not sing naturally. Birds sing in the morning, frogs at night. All creatures do not of course sing; but man is the only one that needs to be taught to use the voice nature gave him."

Madame von Klenner was awarded the diploma for vocal instruction at the Paris exposition in 1900 by a committee of international judges. The award was unique in that it was the first time in history that such an award was ever made.

PROSECUTOR FILES CHARGES.

Men Who Killed Comrade With Compressed Air Must Answer.

Michigan City, Ind., July 16.—Albert Liebig, a factory employee who confessed that he held the nozzle of a hose by which compressed air was injected into George Dumas' body last Friday, causing the victim's death shortly afterward, was arrested late today on another affidavit filed by Prosecutor R. N. Smith, charging in two counts murder in the second degree and manslaughter. Three other men who had a hand in the supposed joke will probably be arrested. The investigation of the case promised to be prefatory until public indignation stirred the authorities to undertake a thorough probe.

ENTER NOTRE DAME NOVITIATE.

Five Young Men Consecrate Lives to Religious Work.

South Bend, Ind., July 16.—Consecrating themselves to a life of religion as teachers in Roman Catholic institutions, five young men have entered the novitiate at Notre Dame university, where they will spend one year preliminary to entering DeJarette institute, also at Notre Dame. The young men are Charles O'Rourke of Cleveland, O.; Theodore Schwartz of Massillon, O.; Vincent Mang of Massillon, O.; Joseph Gaglio of Chicago, and James Horton of Traverse City, Mich. REFUSE MUNICIPAL LIGHT.

Richmond Business Men Will Patronize Competing Company.

Richmond, Ind., July 16.—Declaring that they are paying to light the streets of Richmond, while many other taxpayers are not, a number of big consumers of electric current have taken their business from the municipal light plant of this city and given it to a competing company. It has been the policy of the city administration to light the streets without charge, because the city owns its plant. Many business men contended that this was unjust, as the rates to private consumers could be considerably cut if the city paid for its street lights and charged it up to all taxpayers.

DOG HOLDS UP 3 POLICEMEN.

Survives Shower of Shots and Delays Master's Arrest.

Memphis, Tenn., July 16.—Three policemen were held at bay for nearly an hour by a bulldog, which thought they were going to harm his master. Jim Young, the dog's owner, had been seeing the sights and crawled under a house to sleep. His dog sat down outside to keep watch. After the policemen had broken some window glass and imperiled several pedestrians with their revolver shots, the dog trotted off and Young was sent to the police station.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

AUBURN WILL BE A SAUER-KRAUT TOWN

Farmers in the Vicinity Putting Out Cabbage Plants for the Big Kraut Factory.

Auburn, Ind., July 16.—With the 50,000 cabbage plants placed among the farmers of DeKalb county by the Auburn Sauer-Kraut company last Saturday, that company now has 100,000 plants given out up to date. This insures the establishment of the kraut plant, which will be located in the old bent wood factory in the vicinity of Auburn Junction.

Approximately 200 acres in DeKalb county will be devoted to the growing of cabbage for the use of the factory, which promises to be considerable of an industry. Many farmers were at first reluctant to begin the growing of cabbage on a very large scale, but they have been persuaded that it will pay. Hence the response in planting.

BEER DRIVERS ARRESTED.

Men at Marion Charged With Selling in "Dry" Territory.

Marion, Ind., July 16.—Frank Rominger, driver for a brewery company, was placed under arrest on a charge of violating the liquor laws while he was unloading beer at the club house of the Oriole's lodge. Rominger had twenty-five cases of beer on his wagon. The agent for the brewing company was ordered by the police to have every drop of beer removed from the place.

Oliver Poling, driver of another beer wagon, also was arrested. The police declare they are going to stop the delivery of beer in this city in conformity with a decision recently given by Judge Paulus, of the circuit court, that it is unlawful to deliver liquors in dry territory.

SIXTY DAYS IN JAIL.

Given a Violator of the Liquor Law at Lagro.

Wabash, Ind., July 16.—Sixty days in jail is the penalty imposed by Mayor Wilson in the police court on Lewis Ira, of Lagro, for the illegal sale of liquor. Ira entered a plea of guilty and was fined $60 by the court, which he was unable to pay. As a result he was committed to the county jail where he will be compelled to spend two months.

In the raid practically two barrels of beer were confiscated leaving no alternative to Ira other than a plea of guilty. The Lagro dealer had evidently conducted a wholesale business, though Lagro is presumably dry territory. He is said to have sold many "cold ones" to motorists passing through Lagro and to have done an immense business.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

Geneva, Ind., July 16.—Alexander Bolds, one of the aged pioneers of this community, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eugene Lindsey, west of this town. CHILDREN BEGIN CRIMINAL CAREER

Brother and Sister, Aged 7 and 9, Taken Into Custody as Burglars at Warsaw.

Warsaw, Ind., July 16.—Two youthful burglars, Charles Green and his sister, Katie Green, aged 7 and 9 years respectively, were before Judge Bowser yesterday charged with breaking into the Douglas meat market, on Senter street, Sunday afternoon, and stealing from the cash register the sum of $1.93.

The reckless manner in which the two children were spending money Sunday evening attracted attention. They went from one candy store to another and purchased candy extravagantly and when on Monday morning the meat market money registry was found to have been broken into suspicion immediately centered on the two children and they were placed under arrest.

A stick pin, which was found in the meat market, was shown to little Charlie Green and he immediately declared it to be his sister's. When he was asked if he had been in the meat market he said emphatically that he had not, but the evidence against them was convincing and they were adjudged guilty. They will probably be sent to the reform school.

Entrance to the meat market was gained through a back door which in some way was left open. The two children have a bad record, especially the boy, who has become notorious on the streets because of his smoking of cigars, cigarettes and a pipe.

Our home team did not appear to get into the game. Carr not being in form, the visitors scored two runs before the Reds began to come out of their trance, but along about the seventh inning Antwerp began to hit for runs and started a nice little merry-go-round of score-getting that put the visitors to the bad. Score—4 to 2 in favor of the Antwerp Reds.

WHILE CRANKING AUTOMOBILE.

Death Comes to William Davis, of Liberty Mills.

Wabash, Ind., July 16.—William Davis, a well known Wabash county resident residing at Liberty Mills in the northern part of the county was found dead a short distance outside of North Manchester by motorists, who discovered the man lying in front of his machine where he had evidently fallen in attempting to crank his automobile.

Mr. Davis had left Liberty Mills in the morning en route to North Manchester to the home of his father-in-law, E. E. Crew, whom he expected to bring back with him to spend the day with his family.

Believing that he had killed his engine he had doubtless stepped from the automobile to again crank it when he suffered a severe stroke of heart trouble which resulted in his death instantly.

Prevention of Rail Wrecks

With a trio of frightful railroad horrors fresh in the public mind, special interest attaches to the statement of H. W. Belnap, chief inspector of safety appliances for the Interstate Commerce Commission, to the effect that there is no law that can correct evils directly chargeable to the failure of railroad employees to do their duty and to exercise due precaution, not alone for their own safety but for the safety of others.

Mr. Belnap says that employees often fail to exercise ordinary precaution in the performance of their work—failure which often takes the form of thoughtlessness in which the chief motive is haste. It is doubtless true that occasionally the trainmen may be tempted for the sake of some ease or the saving of time to take unwarranted chances, and yet we believe that too often disaster is rather the result of the trainman's belief that the company expects him to make schedule time regardless of ordinary inconveniences and situations that may throw the regular schedule out of alignment. There is unquestionably a belief, whether justified or not, in the mind of the average trainman, that unless he can do this, his company will shortly be hunting for somebody else who can. Hard and fast printed rules make the company safe enough so far as blame is concerned, and when disaster comes the responsibility often falls upon the head of some employee who has been over zealous in his effort to get over the road on schedule time because he knows his company expects him to do it. He has taken similar chances before and came through successfully. He reasons that he can do it again.

Mr. Belnap holds that if it can be instilled into the minds of the trainmen that it is more honorable and more professional to be cautious and prudent than to take unnecessary risks, a great reduction in the accident records will result, and his contention is undoubtedly true so far as that which has come to be known as the "human element" in railroading is concerned. But it seems to us that the greater part of the trouble lies back of all this. It has its beginning in the modern demand of the public for speed and more speed, and the over-mastering tendency of railroad competition to give the public what it wants.

The unanimous selection of William F. McCombs, of New York, as chairman by the new democratic national committee, makes it certain that this adroit and capable young political leader will remain for some time in the spotlight. He was Governor Wilson's manager in the New Jersey campaign for the democratic nomination for the presidency and evidently succeeded in convincing the demomats of the fact that despite his lack of political training in the big game, he was the proper person to command the forces of the candidate whom he carried to victory at Baltimore.

Speaking at Swinney park Sunday afternoon, Hon. Emil Seidel, socialist candidate for vice president, expressed regret that the Fort Wayne city council had turned down the proposition of a bond issue for river bank improvement, and declared he was unable to see why any citizen of Fort Wayne should oppose so admirable a public enterprise. The same problem is puzzling a lot of us here at home.

The passenger who tries frantically to catch the attention of the conductor but without success until after his street has been passed, is entirely justified if he feels like indulging in a little mental speculation as to just when the traction company intends to equip its summer cars with push buttons and signal bells.

Prominent Woman Tells What She Will Do If She's Successful in Race for Mayor of Big City

There Should Be the Same Law for the Poor Workingman and the Rich Idle—Also a Tax Against Bachelorhood Big Enough to Guarantee Anti-Race Suicide, Part of Her Political Creed.

San Diego, Cal., July 16.—Mrs. Rae Capley Raum of San Diego, who recently announced her candidacy for the office of mayor at the election in April, 1913, is not going to be the suffragette's candidate for mayor.

"Men and women have equal political rights in California, and I want to be a majority candidate for both the sexes and all the people," she says.

"I believe in women voting and holding office along with the men, and I would like to be mayor of San Diego if the people by their votes say:

"Yes, go ahead and do your best for us and our city."

"My platform is briefly this:

"There should be simplicity and economy allied with efficiency in municipal affairs.

"There should be the same law for the poor workingman and for the rich idle.

"The streets should be used solely for business, but I would provide covered places for people to speak.

"San Diego has changed from the small town type to the big city, and the psychological moment has arrived for a woman to take the reins of the city government for two years.

"A woman naturally hates graft. In a time when corruption might be the rule instead of the exception it would be a good thing to have a woman mayor. Every honest man in the city from the truck driver to the owner of the biggest factory would back her up and give her advice. The people would be the mayor, not an individual.

"I would be inclined to favor a tax against bachelorhood great enough to guarantee anti-race suicide."

Mrs. Raum is a sister of Congressman Raum, of Illinois.

they put over some things for mothers' rights and particularly mothers' pensions. They passed a resolution that it was the intention of those 2,000 women from all over this union (and many from over seas) to promote in every way they possibly can the passage in every state of laws protecting mothers left widows with young children and without means, in their right to care for and train and educate them, the state contributing such financial help as will enable them to attain a self-supporting age without their mothers being forced into wage-earning.

The Kansas law seems to be one of the best so far. It allows $10 for one child and $5 additional for each additional child. The sum will be increased as the average taxpayer comes to realize how much better and cheaper it is to give a child a chance than to rescue or reform him.

One of the cold facts disclosed by juvenile court work is that the greatest contributing cause to delinquency is lack of proper home surroundings and influence.

California contributes $6.25 a month toward the support of each of its dependent wards, and one or two of the eastern states have similar laws. The strong probability is that the provision, in some form, will be brought up in the next session of the legislature in many more states.

MULCTING THE CONSUMER.

(New York World.)

The Chicago packers are ingenious enough to put the blame for high prices of meat on somebody else or on nature. It is the fault of the farmers that beef is abnormally high, or else beef steers are scarce or corn is high, or the season is backward, or grazing is poor in the west.

The anthracite coal operators and coal railroads are not so fortunately situated. There has been plenty of coal waiting to be mined in Pennsylvania and plenty of miners ready to mine it. There are plenty of railroads and cars to haul it. Yet coal is said to be scarce around New York and prices are rising.

What the coal interests need is somebody like the farmers on whom to lay the blame for present shortage and high prices if they hope to escape responsibility for practicing further extortion at expense of consumers.

LYRIC THEATER.

The offering at the Lyric is a Thau-houser "Vengeance is Mine." A wife resists the temptation to take the revenge that was in truth the Lord's. Here is a film that is as helpful as a sermon, showing as it does the utter folly of revenge. The second reel is "A Mid-Channel Romance," a very clever love story. Wednesday "Slippery Jim," a dramatic gem.

66TH ANNIVERSARY.

Big Doings at The Meyer Bros. Co's Stores This Week.

It was sixty years ago that Mr. C. F. W. Meyer an Mr. J. F. W. Meyer established in Fort Wayne the Meyer drug store. Then Fort Wayne was a village and Indians were numbered among the inhabitants. Today we have a city of about 75,000 people and great progress is noted in all lines of manufacture and commerce, but in no enterprise has there been a more marked advance than in the drug business of the Meyer Bros. Co., which now celebrates its anniversary. This is gala week at the four stores of this great concern. It is an event when bargain giving is the order of the day. People from fifty miles around, who are well acquainted with this pioneer business, will be interested in this anniversary and thousands will come to profit by the offerings. Special prices are offered all week on drugs, toilet and other goods and everybody is invited most cordially to drop into one of the company's four stores and to at least make a friendly call if not to buy. It will be a warm reception and courteous greeting to all who come, as it is the purpose of the firm in holding the celebration to not only make sales, but make many new friends.

HAY FEVER ATTACKS QUICKLY ENDED

Just Try Ely's Cream Balm, A Cleansing, Healing Antiseptic Cream.

Are you sick half for two, or three months every summer with Hay Fever—violent sneezing spells running at the nose, intense itching in the corners of the eyes, pain and soreness in the back of the throat, at nights a stuffed-up feeling in the head and chest? If so, you can get almost instant relief by simply using a cleansing, healing antiseptic cream called Ely's Cream Balm.

Hay Fever is due to an extremely sensitive condition of the membrane lining the nose and throat. Dust, smoke and certain odors irritate this delicate inside skin, it becomes inflamed, causing a watery discharge from the nose and violent spasms of sneezing.

Ely's Cream Balm will relieve all these distressing symptoms in five minutes' time. It opens up the air passages, soothes, heals and strengthens the weakened, inflamed membranes, restores them to healthy, normal condition, so that you are not subject to Hay Fever attacks.

Get a fifty-cent bottle from your druggist today. Give it a fair trial, and get your money back if you are not satisfied. Agent, Meyer Bros. Co.

SOME PRESS OPINIONS ON THE COST OF LIVING.

Political Results.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "It seems now quite evident that the high costs of living are bound to be as potent a factor in determining political results in 1912 as they were in 1910."

Package Goods.

St. Paul Dispatch: "For their own protection, consumers should see to it that the sale of package goods be placed upon an honest basis. The vanishing bulk in package goods is an element in the high cost of living."

Increased Production.

Boston Record: "Increased production, not only of grains but of all food-stuffs, is a potent need in going at the heart of the high living cost."

"More Food Than Ever."

Lewiston Journal: "We are raising more food than ever, but because of misconducted trusts of labor and capital we are also raising more Cain."

Costly Living Better Living.

San Francisco Chronicle: "To live better and still save one must have a larger income. To get the larger income one must get better wages or better profits. That means higher prices for labor and its products, and there you are. The increased cost of living results from a universal determination to live better."

"Lavish Life."

Ohio State Journal: "The fact is more increase in the cost of living is more like an institution than an incident. It is an epoch. The only way to escape it is for all to doff the lavish life."

Worldwide.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Inquiry by the right men under the right conditions cannot fail to throw light on the causes or factors of the worldwide high cost of living that is causing much unrest in politics as well as in industry."

"The Well Fed American."

Pittsburg Post: "It will require more argument than the most skilled economist has yet advanced to convince the well fed American that he is responsible for the high prices that are the source of his everyday complaint."

Protective Duties.

Spokane Spokesman-Review: "Relief that would be just and beneficial to all classes, producers and consumers alike, both in the cities and in the country would be the reduction of the protective duties on the imported foods of the American people."

MOTHERS' RIGHTS.

The biennial meeting of federated women's clubs, just over in San Francisco, was concluded along the safe and sane line of permitting nothing to come up for open discussion that might mar the serenity of the proceedings, or provoke hostility.

This might be showed politics and little real wisdom, but for all that "the world moves" and womankind is turning her fair share of the motive power. And whatever the federation did on didn't for the cause of women.

THE RAILROAD Y. M. C. A.

Improvements Made at the Association Rooms.

W. S. Whitbeck, the general secretary, and J. L. Poppers, the janitor at the Railroad Y. M. C. A., have been busy during the last several days in giving the finishing touches to the improvements that have been in progress at the rooms of the association. Both were engaged today in the painting of the rooms of the association. Secretary Whitbeck calls the work they have just completed "our summer house-cleaning."

Two changes that have been made at the R. Y. M. C. A. during the last month or so that have escaped the notice of many are worthy of mention. One is the removal of the street drinking fountain from Calhoun street to Holman, only a few feet from the corner, however. The other change is the placing of a billiard table in the reading room. Despite the warm weather the reading room is being well patronized this summer. The bathrooms are popular, many taking advantage of the privileges which they offer.

IS VACATION PASTOR.

Rev. T. P. Potts in Pulpit at First Presbyterian Church.

While Rev. H. B. Master, the pastor at the First Presbyterian church, is on his vacation the pulpit on Sunday will be occupied by Rev. T. P. Potts, the superintendent of the Gospel Mission and Rescue Home, who will preach the sermon each Sunday morning, no services being held in the evening. Rev. Mr. Potts is recognized as one of the ablest Bible scholars in the city. His sermons are always characterized by a clearness of thought and the elucidation of gospel truths that make them interesting. They carry with them a wonderful power for good. This assignment will make him very busy man during the summer, for, in addition, he has duties as pastor of the church in Westfield and also of the Gospel Mission on Calhoun street.

HELD AT SWINNEY PARK.

Social Given by Bethany Presbyterian Church.

The social to be given on Thursday evening of this week at Swinney park will be a most enjoyable affair. It is for the purpose of raising funds for the repair of the church and Sunday school rooms, the making of such improvements that are necessary until the congregation can proceed with the erection of a new edifice in a different location, one that will front on Main street in Nebraska, such a change being deemed advisable by the officials of the church. The people of the western part of the city are interested in the work the Bethany church is doing and the pastor, Rev. C. O. Shirey, is hoping for a liberal patronage of this social Thursday evening.

It is conducted by Rev. Albert Vang, and over one hundred priests of the order are in attendance, from nine different states.

DRUNKEN FARMER RAN FAMILY OUT

Christ Hess Forced Wife and Children to Walk to Fort Wayne.

TRIP IN DARKNESS

Mrs. Christ Hess, who lives with her husband three miles from Fort Wayne on the California road, testified in the city court today that her husband went home Saturday night drunk and chased her and their eight children out of the house and forced them to walk to the city for protection from his brutality.

She said that he threw dishes at the children and at her, broke up the furniture and became so enraged as a result of his over indulgence in liquor that she was afraid to stay at home with him. She says that for a year he has been drinking heavily and she fears he will injure her or the children. She stayed at the home of a sister here and filed an affidavit against him.

Judge Mungovan said that he regretted there was no greater penalty than a fine of $5 and costs for drunkenness and assessed that much against the prisoner, who was surly and who took an appeal to the circuit court.

Lost Watch and Money.

Isaac Van Horn came in from Maples yesterday and bought a watch from a second hand dealer for $5 and had about $24 left, and then he started to warm things up. He was found late last night by the police in a drunken stupor and he had neither watch or money when he was arrested. He was told to go home and keep sober.

Didn't Try to Mash Her. Sebastian K. Kleber, an employee of the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company, was fined $10 and costs and given ten days for assaulting John Benz with a brick. The jail sentence was suspended.

He said Benz whistled at his daughter and annoyed her when she passed the plant at which both are employed, and the unwritten law would in all probability have protected him but Benz said he only tipped his hat to the girl and made no attempt at mashing.

Of the drunks Steve Schultz was given a continuance until July 17, Fred Mills, Frank Butcher and Pat Welch were let go and Charles McKinley was fined $5 and costs.

Frank Cooney, charged with striking Sadie Sloman, was fined $5 and costs. The trouble occurred in the saloon at Harrison and Pearl streets, and an effort was made to hush it up.

Andrew Grandstaff was given an indefinite continuance on a charge of wife desertion. He was married two weeks ago at Van Wert and said that he saw his wife looking at a former admirer and that he thought she was going to encourage his attentions and he left her.

Jim Kennell, a negro auto driver, was fined $10 and costs for exceeding the speed limit. He was driving on the wrong side of the street at a high rate of speed and struck Frank J. Baker and broke his bicycle.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

The ladies of the Dywiski club will meet at Foster park tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miles and son, Gilbert, left yesterday for New York city to visit in Philadelphia and places in New Jersey before their return.

Mrs. Gex Pullen Condit, of Gary, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Worden, of West Wayne street.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Well, of West Wayne street, have as guests their cousins, the Misses Block, of New Orleans, La.

Miss Dorothy Haslop, of South Hanna street, has returned home after several weeks' visit with relatives in the east, including Annapolis, Washington, D. C. and Baltimore.

One of the pretty pre-nuptial parties of the month was given by Miss Mary Koester, of West Jefferson street, in honor of Miss Zella Fredericks, who is to wed John Koester within a short time. The guests amused themselves untangling a web of string and when each found the end of his own particular piece, he came to an article of granite ware for the kitchen. These various utensils were then showered upon the prospective bride.

A delicious supper was served in the dining room, which was decorated with pink hearts and flowers. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zurmuehlen, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cullers, Mr. and Mrs. William Buchanan, Misses Margaret Gillis and Emma Loney and Messrs. Ray Corcoran and William Koester and Mrs. John Stahlhut.

THE DEATHS

MASON.

I. E. Mason, aged 31 years, died at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Lutheran hospital from abscess of the kidneys. The deceased made his home with D. Z. Boyer, of 121 East Taber street.

Mr. Mason was an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and was a member of the Pennsylvania Relief union. The remains were shipped today to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mason, of Union township, Whitley county, where funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WARSHIP NOT AROUND.

Philadelphia, July 6.—The new battleship Wyoming, which left here yesterday for her official trip of the Maine coast, anchored during the night at Deep Water Point, twenty-six miles south of this city, and steamed down the Delaware river at 10:30 a. m. It was reported last night that the big warship was around, but this was denied by the Cramp company, which built the vessel.

BELMONT PUT UP $250,000

that the balance of $8,000 only was a contribution.

The capitalist remembered he had paid "two small items" of $1,000 each to Maurice Cuccor, a Hungarian leader in New York.

Could Not Remember. Senator Jones asked Mr. Belmont for the total of his contribution. The witness thought he could not remember.

"Was it more than $50,000?"

"Oh, yes."

"It must have been more than that."

"Was it $250,000?" pursued Senator Jones.

"I doubt it. I tried to remember, but I find I cannot," said Mr. Belmont.

Senator Jones tried a new tack.

"Did you contribute by cash or check?"

"Very often by cash."

"And check?" queried Senator Paynter.

"Seldom by check. I cannot remember the exact amount, but I am satisfied with an estimate of $250,000."

That Was Not All.

Senator Jones asked Mr. Belmont how much he contributed in addition to the $250,000 given to the national campaign.

The witness replied he always contributed to the campaign in his own locality and to the state campaign. He was not able to tell how much that had been in addition to the $250,000.

"Do you care to give any reason why you contributed so large a sum?" inquired Senator Jones.

"I was very active in the nomination," began Mr. Belmont, "and had been selected to serve on the committee and when funds did not come in I just contributed. I never intended to make any such contribution but when deficits arose I contributed."

Mr. Belmont was asked if he had any understanding of reward from Judge Parker, the presidential candidate.

"From the very outset, Judge Parker was a free and independent man and remained so."

Expected No Favors.

"Did you expect any favors?"

"On the contrary, Judge Parker understood from me that there would be nothing I could accept. I was very much interested in the campaign and contributed purely as a democrat."

"Nor did you expect to have any special legislation?" Senator Paynter suggested.

"None, whatever. There was no interest with which I was connected that could be helped by special legislation."

"Before your day you had the example of a father who was a liberal campaign contributor, did you not?"

"I did. I remember as a boy attending the convention of 1868."

When asked if he could remember any contributions from individuals or corporations, Mr. Belmont replied there was none from corporations.

Sent Havermeier's Back.

"Any from individuals for corporations?" asked Senator Clapp.

"No-yes," replied the witness.

"From whom?" insisted Senator Clapp.

"Henry Havermeier, but it was returned. It was secured—I won't say who secured it—anyway, it came in. Later it was rejected and that contribution was returned. I remember a discussion in Mr. Taggart's room to the effect that the contribution was regarded as undesirable."

Mr. Belmont estimated the Havermeier contribution at $10,000.

Mr. Belmont was unable to give an accurate estimate of the total of the funds at the disposal of the democratic national committee in 1904.

When Senator Clapp asked if it were a million dollars, he "guessed" it was not more than $600,000 or $700,000.

"I never asked for the specific amount," added Mr. Belmont, by way of explanation. "You see, these things are not conducted like a business concern. Keeping accounts is expensive and I doubt if any committee ever did it before it was under obligation to do so."

STRAWBERRY FUMES FEARED.

Shipowners Decl' e Odor Is Just as Intoxicating as Alcohol.

London, July 16.—A strange story about the danger of strawberries when in large quantities comes from Brittany. Recently there have been several demands by local tradespeople and tourists to be granted a passage to Plymouth on the little steamers which carry the supply of early strawberries across the channel from Plouzanet, but in every case the request has been refused. As the refusal was ill received in some cases, the shipowners have now given their explanation. The fumes given off by such large quantities of strawberries, they say, are quite as overpowering and dangerous as those of any strong alcoholic liquor. The crew have to keep on deck for the greater part of the voyage and no passenger could be carried except at a risk of health.

A regular aeroplane mail service has been established in Germany between the cities of Cologne, Dusseldorf and Neuss.

ORDER TO STAND FOR FEW WEEKS

Hearing on Fruit House Injunction Will Be Deferred.

LAWSUIT GOES OVER

A temporary restraining order issued against the City of Fort Wayne on Saturday in an action filed by the White Fruit house to prevent the removal of rigs from Wayne street east of Calhoun, will be allowed to stand until the circuit court convenes in September and the hearing will probably be had on the tenth.

In the meantime the interested attorneys will go through the traffic ordinance and decide whether or not to make the test of its validity in the courts.

Notes of the Courts. Lulu Burkle's suit for divorce from Samuel Burkle was placed on hearing this afternoon in the superior court. In the action brought by Margaret Didier against Frank Didier a divorce decree was granted by Judge S. L. Morris, who is presiding temporarily in the superior court.

she had a premonition a tragedy would follow such a conference and she named a police official as one of the men who was to be present.

Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty said today:

"The car used was No. 41,313 N. Y. It was bought by Louis Libby last October. He promised to pay $899 for it, had paid $200 and was still paying on it."

"It has been positively identified as the car used by the assassins and Libby has been positively identified as the chauffeur and as one of the men who fired at Rosenthal. The car was found in the garage on South Washington square."

"The charge against the prisoner is homicide. The garage is the same in which was found the taxi used by Montana and the $25,000 taxi robbers. At this time this is all I can afford to say."

Police Lieutenant Becker joined District Attorney Whitman at once when he heard of the murder. He said:

"It is very regrettable. I know of no motive. I haven't seen Rosenthal for a week and then I met him casually."

The police learned that Rosenthal talked with friends about the degree of safety in which he moved about since he brought charges against the police.

Had Been Threatened.

"I've been threatened," Rosenthal was quoted as saying. "But I don't care a hang for anybody. I'm going to stay right here and face this thing. They didn't play this game on the level with me, and I'm going to stick and see justice. Common justice, that's all I asked, and I'm going to get it."

Lieutenant Becker said later: "It ought to be needless for me to say—I think I ought not to be asked to say—that I know absolutely nothing about the crime, who perpetrated it, what the motive or what end is to be gained by it. I want to say, now that I have said this much, and perhaps I am violating a rule of the department by so saying, that it was to my best and only advantage that Rosenthal should have been permitted to live right on for many years, if not for a few more days only. I bore this man no malice. He set himself up as my enemy. I have explained every move I made with this man to the satisfaction of my superiors."

"The mortgage is very easily explained. As I look on it now, in three more days the whole thing would be off. I calculated in three days at the outside, the last suspicion would be lifted from the police department by documentary, legal evidence before the proper authorities."

He Had Feared Death.

District Attorney Whitman said that Rosenthal had told him yesterday that he feared death at the hands of the police.

"The police have killed better men than me when it became necessary to do it to suppress evidence," Rosenthal said, according to the district attorney. Mr. Whitman added that when he took this statement as a joke, Rosenthal replied: "It is no laughing matter at all," and expressed the fear that something would happen to him in the next few hours.

It was because of this fear, Mr. Whitman explained that he had told Rosenthal to come to his apartment this morning instead of making the trip to the criminal court building.

UNDERWOOD IS WILSON'S GUEST

Alabama Man Meets Democratic Nominee for First Time

EACH VERY CORDIAL

Trenton, N. J., July 16.—Oscar W. Underwood, of the house of representatives, met Governor Wilson for the first time shortly after noon today at the state house and went immediately into a private conference with the nominee, with whom he lunched later in the afternoon.

The meeting between the governor and Underwood was extremely cordial. The governor rose from his chair when Mr. Underwood appeared in the doorway and met him half way with outstretched hand. There was a hearty hand shake and the governor said:

"I feel almost as if I had known you for a long time. We both went to the University of Virginia, although you entered a year or thereabouts after I left. It seems strange when our trains were so close together that they didn't collide, but now that we have come together without accident I trust that we will run along on parallel tracks."

Mr. Underwood smiled and said he was sure he quite agreed with the governor. Soon they drove in an automobile to the Country club for luncheon.

Mr. Underwood was met at the station by the governor's secretary. On his way to the state house Mr. Underwood said he came up from Washington chiefly to pay his respects to the governor. "If the governor wants to discuss legislation before congress," he added, "we'll do so. I have no special subject in mind to take up with him."

Following strictly the rules and order laid down in the code begun more than a century ago, the senate took up the formal proceedings. The fall of the gavel out short after business as Senator Gallinger, acting president, announced that the hour for the trial had arrived.

There was a moment of confusion as the senate, unable to interpret rules of use since 1904, sought a method of administering oaths that changed the body into the high court of impeachment contemplated by the constitution.

Acting President Gallinger had first to be sworn in as presiding officer, but none could say who should do it. Senator Shelby M. Culom, the oldest member, was finally designated on motion of Senator Smoot.

Senator Gallinger then swore the senators to their duties as judges in parties of eight, selected alphabetically. As the last retired to his seat, Senator Clark, of Wyoming, chairman of the judiciary committee, presented the formal resolution to inform the house that the senate now sat as the "high court of impeachment" and was prepared to receive the house of representatives and its committee of managers.

After all the oaths had been administered the court of impeachment took a recess until later in the day. The judges resumed their places as senators and took up the business of the upper house of congress.

It was expected that at the resumption of the sitting of the impeachment court plans would be agreed to for a postponement.

HAD DIED FROM COCAINE.

Decomposed Body of Lafayette Dentist Is Found in Pasture.

Lafayette, Ind., July 16.—Dr. Floyd E. Cording, aged 31, a well known young dentist of this city, was found dead at noon today in a lonely pasture near the Wabash river. He had been dead for several days, and the body was terribly decomposed. Cording left home last Friday and telephoned his wife that night he was going to kill himself. He died from the effects of cocaine, which led to his rash act. He was a graduate of the Indiana Dental college at Indianapolis.

WILL BE WITNESSES.

Engineers on 12-Hour Trains to Testify in Wage Dispute.

New York, July 16.—Warren S. Stone, chief of the locomotive engineers, resumed his presentation of the case of the engineers of the eastern railroads when the arbitration commission met today. He said that when he had completed his outline of the claims of the engineers, and submitted statistics to prove that their contention for shorter hours and increased pay, was justified, he would call as witnesses the engineers of eight-hour trains between New York and Chicago and men who operated some of the new type of "Mallet" locomotives used for heavy freight trains.

The five railroads, with through their lawyers, occupy general days presenting the voluminous evidence in support of their claim that the engineers are paid all that the earnings of the railroads will warrant.

RIDING EVENTS AT STOCKHOLM

Olympic Stadium is Transformed for New Type of Competition

ARMY GETS SECOND

Stockholm, Sweden, July 16.—The stadium in which most of the field and track events of the Olympic games were decided underwent during the night a complete transformation. Today it was found to be planted with hydrangeas and other bright flowers and studded with hedges, barred gates and walls which had displaced the cinder path, the jumping pits and the gymnastic apparatus.

A great crowd, comprising many families of the royal family, the leading representatives of society and the Swedish cavalry officers, packed the banks of seats around the arena shortly before 1 o'clock. At that hour a long cavalcade of officers who were to compete in the military riding events entered the stadium. In their brilliant many-colored uniforms the representatives of the armies of ten nations lined up in front of the royal box and saluted the king and queen and the other members of the royal family.

The German officers won first with 118.20 points, the United States second with 117.40 and Sweden third with 117.07.

The funeral service for the dead marathon runner, F. Lazaro, of Portugal, who died from sunstroke, was held today at the Catholic church here. The coffin was draped with a Portuguese flag and was almost completely hidden beneath beautiful wreaths sent by the king and queen of Sweden, the sports committee and others. The body is to be taken later to Portugal for burial.

THIRD TICKET CERTAIN.

No Possibility of Taft-Roosevelt Partnership in Illinois.

Chicago, July 16.—All plans for avoiding the use of a third presidential ticket in Illinois by placing the names of both President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt at the head of the republican ticket were declared by Medill McCormick, head of the Roosevelt forces, today to have been abandoned.

What effect Colonel Roosevelt's announcement from Oyster Bay that he would not favor going on the republican ticket had in bringing about this decision, Mr. McCormick refused to say.

"That amalgamation scheme was certainly not feasible," he added. "The announcement came just before a meeting of Illinois Roosevelt men, called to consider plans for a state convention."

The general opinion was that a Roosevelt ticket should be put out, the only question being what officers besides that of president it should embrace.

YES, THERE WILL BE A PARADE.

Barnum and Bailey Will Also Present Great Spectacle of "Cleopatra."

When the Barnum and Bailey Great-est Show on Earth visits Fort Wayne on July 23 it will present a street parade on absolutely new lines. In no particular will this parade be like those of the past.

Before the circus began its season it promised a surprise in the way of street processions. It announced that it would present a pageant three times the length of any other and costing ten times as much. It is now fulfilling that promise to the letter. The open-air spectacle represents three years' work. The best artists of Italy and France made the designs for the various vehicles, the costumes and fantastic trappings. The best property and spectacle builders and master artisans of the great theaters of Europe put those designs into execution. They worked night and day for three years in the foreign workshops of the show in England. When the bills for all this labor were turned in to the management they amounted to over $1,000,000. But the result of the work is worth it. It is a parade of ten thousand wonders and novelties.

It has great value as a world's exposition. It presents all types of the human race, together with their costumes, tapestries, banners, flags, weapons, engines of warfare, statuary and paintings, carriages of state, mythology and idols. A complete street menagerie is displayed in open dens. There are herds of camels, dromedaries and elephants and 700 horses. The characteristic music of the world's peoples is represented by brass bands, barbarian orchestras, tom-tom players, weird pipers, silver chimenes, cathedral organs, siren pipes, chanters, dervishes, castanet ballers and operatic choruses.

For the children there are fete day and kermis scenes, fairyland tableaux, depicting all the characters from Mother Goose, Alice in Wonderland, the Arabian Nights, the Water Babies and Robinson Crusoe. The tapestry and rugs are from Turkey and Persia. The costumes are from France. The laces are from Ireland. The scarfs, banners and flags are from Japan. The wagons, floats, palanquins, rickshaws, howdahs, palaces and thrones are made from the finest woods, carved by hand and burnished with pure gold. The harness is silver mounted.

Zebras, llamas, camels and elephants do the work of horses. There are 1,200 men, women and children in the line.

The show grounds of this big circus are a city in themselves. Here will be found an immense dynamo plant, generating power for all kinds of shops and supplying current for 7,000 electric globes, arcs and incandescents. There is also a postoffice, where mail is received every day from all parts of the world.

The show carries its own barbers, dentists, lawyers, doctors, detectives and master mechanics. It has a hotel and dining room, where 4,000 meals are cooked and eaten every day in the week. The train that pulls the circus from city to city is more than a mile in length. It travels in a single season about 40,000 miles, making stops at 200 different cities.

One entire section of the train is needed to transport the vast equipment of the spectacle, "Cleopatra," which opens the performance in the main tent. The spectacle employs tons of scenery and properties and a great portable stage is built so that it can be put up in sections and packed away again at night on twenty flat cars.

BROKE THERMOMETER.
120 Degrees Registered Under Sun's Rays Did the Damage.

The spirit thermometer in front of the Wenzel drug store at the corner of East Wayne and Barr streets exploded under the excessive heat of the sun's rays Monday afternoon. While the official temperatures of Monday were all below 90 degrees, the temperature under the rays of the sun was sufficient to explode the thermometer which had been tested to 120 degrees.

HOW TO BATHE AND RUB YOUR BABY.
WATER is Such a Lot of COMFORT to Him When Weather's Extra WARM.

By Ida McGlone Gibson.

Baby lies on its back most of the day and the extra coolness the powder imparts is very soothing. If during the day you cannot get outdoors with your baby and it is fretful, take a clean wash cloth, wet in tepid water, and lightly pat over its entire body. While you are doing this allow its little night dress or slip to hang in the air. After half the danger of hot weather is abated, one of these sponge baths dust it with talcum and put on its aired slip and it will be apt to go right to sleep.

If possible put your baby in a bath tub at least once a day. See how quickly it will learn to love its daily tub—and how it will stretch and squirm when you dust and rub its back with powder. Clean and cool means comfort for baby.

After you have bathed the baby and before you put on its little slip lay it over your lap on its stomach and rub its back with talcum powder.

ON PERSONALITY.

The first word—A pleasing personality usually brings you anything you desire.

The modern woman in her mad search for physical beauty is neglecting a much more important part of womanly fascination.

A magnetic personality is much more to be desired than beauty of face or figure. To have a personality which draws people to you, you must have a combination of many things, of which physical beauty is but one.

Everything a woman thinks, does and is, enters into her personality.

We, of the stage, know that personality is our greatest asset. Some of us, however, have almost come to hate the word, because, try as we may to perfect ourselves in our art, the critics persist in seeing only the personal side of us.

Yet, personality has given face to every successful man or woman since the world began. Napoleon's personality made millions of loyal Frenchmen drop in the freezing Russian wastes with "Vivi L'Empereur" on their dying lips. Not the beauty of Mary, Queen of Scots, brought men gladly to her precarious cause; it was her personality.

Beautiful women of tradition and history were seldom of classic features. Neither did they measure up to the modern beauty standard. It was personalities which made men declare, "The world well lost, and all for love."

I presume that more has been said about the Billie Burke personality than that of any other American artist, except that of Ethel Barrymore. And when people write or talk about it, they always intimate that it is a part of me, something I cannot help. They do not realize that the personality of anyone is that part which you build up from day to day; it is the part of your secret soul that is seen by mortal eyes and it is affected by every vagrant thought, every unstudied action as well as by your highest ideals and greatest deeds.

If you are interested in life, in your fellow man and in your work; if you can sympathize with the sorrowful and laugh with those who come to you with a smile; if you can live to the fullest every God-given moment; if you can put self behind and enter into your everyday work, your friends will talk about your magnetic personality.

neglect themselves physically will degenerate morally and mentally.

The time has passed when a woman has to be ugly to give the world the impression of feminine intelligence. The woman of fascinating personality must have beauty as well as brains, and every mother should teach this to her daughter, both by precept and practice.

Just one last word—Personality is the golden side of the shield of feminine fascination.

You must know, however, that you cannot be mentally and morally fine without being physically fine. Indeed, the best authorities say that those who

ART IN KNOWING HOW TO PACK.

People often dread the packing of luggage consequent on the holiday season, though if method is exercised packing is not nearly so formidable a job as it is thought.

Some time before the holiday make out a list of things to be taken, subtracting from it and adding to it as time goes by. In this way a fairly sensible list is finally arrived at. Set aside for packing a day—or part of a day—when you will be sure of being undisturbed, and do not allow anything to interfere with the work in hand. First of all, collect together everything upon the prepared list, taking off the things as they are brought out.

Then get the trunks or boxes, keeping the number down to as few as possible. In every case, pack very heavy things at the bottom of the trunk, graduating upwards, so that the very flimsiest goods are on the top. Use plenty of tissue paper, or crumpled newspaper, for packing among clothes, and divide all "layers" of things with a plain linen cover. Pack bottles, first securely corked, and wrapped in greaseproof paper, between clothes—not into the corners. Directly each box is packed, lock it, strap it and label it.

Beyond the heavy luggage, a small bag, or holdall, should be packed with such things as will be wanted immediately on arriving at the journey's end—clean handkerchiefs, toilet soap and so on.—Answers, London.

FORT WAYNE CLUB WOMEN ENJOY TRIP

Home from San Francisco Enthusiastic Over the Convention.

MEET OLD FRIENDS

"Excuse me, Madam, but I see you are from Indiana and would you mind shaking hands with me for I came from that state myself a few years ago," said the chauffeur of a handsome limousine to Mrs. Clark Fairbank of this city whom he was driving in company with other visitors in San Francisco on a sightseeing expedition during the recent biennial convention of the National Federation of Women's clubs. "My heart melts in me when I see anyone from near my old home though I have been out here twelve years," continued the chauffeur as Mrs. Fairbank heartily shook his hand and told him she, too, was glad to see some one from her native state.

"It was surprising to me to meet so many people from Indiana," continued Mrs. Fairbank in relating incidents of her trip from which she returned last Saturday, and which she took as a delegate from Indiana State Federation to the biennial convention of the National Federation of Women's clubs. "Everyone wore a badge that told the state she represented and I suppose people from other states met with the same cordial greetings as we from Indiana."

Enthusiastic Over Work.

Mrs. Fairbank has returned with more enthusiasm, if possible, than ever for woman's work in clubs organized with the purpose of broadening the individual and bettering women and children in every walk of life. She declares that at the San Francisco meetings women talked with the force and eloquence of men and presented arguments as readily and fluently. She was much impressed with the power of women as speakers which she described as wonderful. The enthusiasm of the women of California concerning the beauties of their country, and their warm espousal of woman's suffrage was evidently contagious for this Fort Wayne delegate has come home a more ardent advocate for suffrage than ever while her praises for the cordial hospitality of the San Francisco citizens are hardly exceeded in warmth by her descriptions of the beautiful places visited during the hours devoted to sightseeing and entertaining.

Mrs. Felix McWhirter, of Indianapolis, who is president of the Indiana State Federation of clubs which will hold its next convention in October in this city, was a few days later in arrival in San Francisco than the majority of the Indiana delegates.

Wanted Indiana Recognized.

"Before Mrs. McWhirter came," said Mrs. Fairbank, "we wandered around rather aimlessly. No one seemed to know just what to do to bring Indiana to the notice of the convention but when Mrs. McWhirter arrived, things were at once different. She got us together, told us to put on our best evening gowns and meet in the Palace hotel dining room for dinner. We were asked to enter the dining room together so when we went in, over forty of us, and were seated in a conspicuous place other people naturally began asking who we were. You see we wanted Indiana to be represented on the board of directors for the next two years and we could not expect someone to be elected a director without bringing the representatives of the state forward for recognition. Mrs. Grace Julian Clark, of Indianapolis, our former president of the state association was elected and we were greatly pleased with the result. Mrs. McWhirter nominated Mrs. Clarke and her speech made an impression that counted for an election. I assure you we were all proud of our state president."

The Suffrage Question.

"Of course the suffrage question did not take the place in the convention proceedings that some had hoped, for the constitution did not permit of its adoption as a plank, but the Californians never lost an opportunity to urge the delegates to use their influence when they got home in furthering the cause. We went to a luncheon of nearly one thousand covers called the woman's suffrage luncheon and it was a remarkable and an inspiring meeting. Surely the feeling in the west is a different one from that found in this section of the country regarding this question. I heard the late Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker speak two days before she was taken ill on the question of equal rights and it was an eloquent address."

"The social aspects surpassed anything I had ever dreamed of," continued Mrs. Fairbank. "We were loaded with flowers, fruits and favors. There were receptions, luncheons, trips to pleasure resorts and points of interest. One day we Indiana women, who included Mrs. O. N. Guldin and Mrs. Fred McCulloch, of this city, and some fifteen hundred other delegates from other states, spent the day in the Santa Clara valley and were guests of the club women of that part of California at a luncheon at the famous Congress Springs. The car we made the trip in was a gorgeous sight. It was decorated with roses and sweetpeas to such an extent that it seemed all flowers. Large bouquets of sweet peas were lavished upon us. It was a wonderful trip.

Visits at Other Points.

We visited Leland Stanford university that day. On another occasion we visited the Greek theater, which surpassed in loveliness any idea I had conceived of it by reading about it. That day the Indiana delegates were guests at a luncheon given by Mrs. Frank Saylor, formerly of Elwood, this state, and prominent worker of the state organization. We had a lovely time at her home. I did not go to visit the home of Joaquin Miller, though I thought about it. Mrs. Guldin made that trip and the same day Mrs. McCulloch was visiting Mrs. Norman Olds, formerly Clara Hull, of this city, so I decided to take an auto trip instead and it was then I met the Indiana chauffeur who asked me to shake hands with him. Mrs. Walter Olds, who is spending some time in Frisco visiting her son, had the honor during the convention of being the principal guest at a big luncheon given by the Arche Club of Chicago, of which Mrs. Olds was the president during the time she lived in that city."

Mrs. Fairbank and Mrs. McCulloch went to British Columbia before they returned home and among the points of interest they visited was beautiful Lake Louise, in Laggan, B. C., which Mrs. Fairbank believes to be the most wondrously beautiful spot of nature that she saw during the entire trip.

Mrs. Guldin did not return east with the others as she has addresses to make in Los Angeles, Portland and other western points along the same lines as her address before the convention on household economics.

We were not able to wait on all of our customers Saturday. Try again, this week, please. We will have three extra salesmen and one extra tailor and will endeavor to give you better service.

RUB HIS BACK WITH TALCUM POWDER.

(By Ida McGlone Gibson.)

Be sure that you bathe your baby every day in summer in tepid water.

In the case of a healthy baby that does not show any temperature that is enough. If, however, your baby shows the least bit of fever, bathe it all over frequently until its temperature is normal.

When your baby is clean and cool, half the danger of hot weather is abated. Don't be afraid of bathing it at least once a day, even if it has bowel or stomach trouble.

The cooling bath will be found of great benefit.

After you have bathed the baby and before you put on its little slip lay it over your lap on its stomach and rub its back with talcum powder.

TRIED TO FREE MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS, SENT TO U. S. PRISON—GIRLS MAY GO TO JAIL.

Senorita Mercedes Figueroa (Left), Daughter of Mexican Revolutionist, and Lucille Norman, the Girls Who Led Attack on Los Angeles Officers and May Go to Jail for It.

Bitter hatred of a brother is sending Enrique and Ricardo Magon to a federal prison at McNeil's Island, to serve terms of a year and eleven months each for violation of the neutrality laws existing between the United States and Mexico, according to the charges of their attorney, Willard Andrews.

With the Magons go Anselmo Figueroa and Librado Rivera. The crime charged was enlisting men in the United States to fight against the Diaz regime. On this they were tried in the federal court and found guilty.

But the real charge against them is said to have been their steadfast refusal to discontinue publication of the Los Angeles organ of the Mexican liberal party, El Regeneracion. When Madero was fighting Diaz he was a regular contributor to El Regeneracion. When he won, as president of Mexico, he disliked the attitude of the paper. Still feeling friendly toward the publishers, he offered them places in his cabinet as the price of the discontinuance. One of the brothers, Jesus Magon, accepted.

The Mexican counsel was in court every day during the trial, representing Madero and Jesus Magon, who is now secretary of state in Madero's cabinet. One American, Dick Ferris, was indicted with the Magons. The charges against him were dismissed.

Jesus Magon had nothing against him and he had never been concerned with El Regeneracion. Ferris' offense consisted in being elected provisional president of the provisional republic of Lower California.

Lucille Norman Guidero, step-daughter of Ricardo Magon, and Mercedes Figueroa, daughter of Anselmo Figueroa, are now being charged with inciting a riot. When the Magons and their fellow prisoners were being escorted from the court room to the jail the girls led a mob in a rush on the police lines. With fifteen others they were arrested, and now face federal and state prosecutions.

Lucille Norman Guidero first came into prominence when she accosted Dave Martin, a cowboy, who had given testimony against her step-father, slapping him in the face and calling him a traitor, within hearing of the federal judge on the bench.

MANY CHILDREN HAVE DRUG HABIT

Dr. Wiley Enlists Teachers in Fight Against the Curse.

AFTER SOFT DRINKS

Chicago, July 14.—"Let us bring up the next generation without ruining its health by drugging," declared Dr. Harvey W. Wiley of pure food fame, before the general assembly of the National Educational Association here.

"Either through neglect, carelessness or consent of parents and teachers, thousands of school children are becoming addicted to drug habits," he continued.

"There is no nation on earth in which the children take something as often as they do in this country. Beginning almost with birth, there seems to be an incessant craving to fill the baby's stomach with drugs instead of food. This tendency, established in early life, is not perceptibly diminished during the ages of childhood and early maturity.

All-Potent Pill Box.
"Every household has its cupboard with so-called household remedies, consisting mostly of synthetic preparations of quack medicines. Each of these is advertised to be good for almost every disease which may befall the child. No matter what ails him, the all-potent bottle or pill box contains the sovereign remedy.

"Very often these are dangerous drugs, habit-forming drugs, depressing drugs. The age of opium and its compounds, acetanilid, phenacetin, antipyrine and chloroform has not passed by in the realm of infant preparations. The country is still flooded with these deadly preparations, none of which should ever be given to children except in rare cases and then only under the personal supervision of a competent physician.

Timely Notice of Fatigue.
"In addition to these drugs, many children are allowed to drink tea and coffee, and thus take into their systems an alkaloid, caffeine, which has the tendency to take away the sense of fatigue, stimulate the heart's action, and, in general, to urge the child forward to greater physical and mental activity than he should be called upon to endure.

"In the normal child the brain and body give timely notice of fatigue; in the abnormal child, fed partly on tea and coffee, these danger signals are struck down, and the child has no sense either of physical or mental fatigue. Thus he keeps on working when, if nature had her way, he should be resting. Physicians and teachers should combine to urge upon parents the desirability of not allowing school children to use tea or coffee.

Raps Soft Drinks.

"In addition to these drugs containing caffeine there are about a hundred so-called soft drinks on the markets of the country, sold under different names; and to which caffeine has been added so as to make the beverage when consumed, have about the same quantity of caffeine that tea and coffee contain. To what extent the children patronize these caffeinated drinks can not be determined accurately but that they do patronize them is well understood. Teachers and parents should join in their efforts to prevent children of school age and attending school from indulging in these very threatening beverages. They are of a character, as the phrase runs to get on your nerves, and should be rigidly excluded.

"It is hardly necessary to call attention to the danger of the tobacco habit. Girls, as a rule, in school do not acquire it, but many boys early acquire the habit of smoking cigarettes, which is a habit that can not fail to do immense injury. The schoolroom is the place where these anti-drug habits should be taught.

"One great object in education should be the development of a sound intellectual training in connection with a sound physical body. The increasing tendency to insanity, neurasthenia, and kindred diseases is awakening a marked interest among all those who are laboring for the public health."

THE MODERN WAY OF LIVING A SEVERE TAX ON VITALITY

Modern living is a tremendous tax on the vitality of the nation. The woman of that splendid physique of our pioneer days, who was the mother of the West, is fast disappearing from memory. The woman of today is an anemic, sickly, always tired, exhausted type. The reason for this is very simple. The call of social duty has imposed on the woman of today responsibilities that takes up too much of her time and saps her vitality. The wife of the business man, artisan, clerk or working man, frequently has just as many social responsibilities as the woman of fashion. The fact that she has housework and other domestic duties to perform only tends to make her life the harder.

Many women think they are suffering from various diseases but don't really know what ails them. They have headaches; many of them have nervous prostration; they suffer from gas on the stomach, foul breath, constipation, kidney and liver trouble, anaemia, and other ailments. They eat too much, too irregularly and fail to take healthy outdoor exercise as nature demands. Food lies heavily on the stomach, sours, causes gas and is pumped into their blood. All kinds of diseases of course are bound to follow.

Coper's New Discovery tones up the stomach and aids in the assimilation of food so that it imparts strength and vitality to the system. It makes rich, red blood, tones the nerves and will restore a run-down, half-sick, anemic person to the full bloom of health. For sale at Dreier Drug Co., 520 Calhoun St., corner Columbia; 1462 Calhoun St., corner Brackenridge.

"Don't think it is hot, don't worry, and don't get heated," said Dr. R. E. Doolittle, acting chief of the pure food bureau and successor to Dr. Harvey Wiley, the pure food expert. "Don't look at the thermometer every two minutes. Just try to forget the weather and you'll be surprised to find how much less you feel it."

Avoid Alcoholic Drinks. "Alcoholic drinks, beer, gin, or anything like it should be avoided," he continued, thoughtfully wiping the perspiration from his brow and shifting his chair to the left to get the benefit of the cooling breezes from an electric fan. "A little ice water, I find, is not harmful. Possibly one tiny drink, the kind that tinkles in the glass, taken in the evening, is all right."

"There is no objection to lemonade and soda fountain beverages. The acids and soda in the latter are positively beneficial to ward off heat. Once a day is often enough to eat meat in hot weather—never two or three times. Be sure, too, that any fish or sea foods are absolutely fresh. These and stale milk cause typhoid. Ice cream, too, is not harmful. Vacations Good for All.

"Moderation in all things, eating and working, is imperative. Take a vacation, sure. If you can't be sure your wife does, she probably needs it more than you do. Every man, though, ought to take a vacation. Vacations are good investments for any business firm to give their employees. Also loaf, sleep, and take it as easy as you can all the time. Don't over-exert."

Exercise as light underwear as possible. But above all things, stay away from the thermometers and forget the weather."

Washington, D. C., July 16.—Suggestions for keeping cool were issued today by the agricultural department. The advice of the department, while not original, is generally recognized to be sound. To follow it, one must be moderate in eating, moderate in moving, and must not take more than "one tiny drink, the kind that tinkles in a glass," during an evening. Then if one carefully and thoroughly dismisses all thoughts of the heat from the mind, complete and refreshing coolness will result, according to the agricultural experts.

The $50,000 Wedding of a $10,000,000 Girl Is Celebrated in Regally Magnificent Style

How the Money Was Spent to Celebrate the Wedding of Jennie Crocker, Who Inherited Fortune of $10,000,000 From Her Father, Son of the Man Who Built the Southern Pacific Railroad.

COST OF WHITMAN-CROCKER WEDDING.

Wedding gifts	$10,000

Dinner to groomsmen	500
Bridegroom's gifts to attendants	800

Total	$55,000

San Francisco, Cal., July 16.—It cost approximately $55,000 for Miss Jennie Crocker to marry Malcolm Whitman of New York today.

The bride is the wealthiest heiress in California and her total wealth is $10,000,000. The fortune was made by Chas. Crocker, builder of the Southern Pacific railroad, who by sheer force compelled 10,000 Chinese coolies to put his road through, overcoming almost impossible obstacles.

The descendants of the famous railroad builder invest lots of their surplus cash mostly in elaborate dog kennels, horses and beautiful estates.

There were only about 400 invitations to the Whitman-Crocker ceremony, at the church, and 200 guests at the elaborate breakfast following on the lawn of the Crocker estate. All of which means, in unsentimental mathematics, by eliminating the cost of the wedding presents, something like $70.50 was expended for the edification and entertainment of each of the guests.

Of the 200 guests at the wedding breakfast, nearly 100 were maids and matrons.

Each one of these spent, on an average, an amount considerably in excess of $75.00 for a new gown, slippers and flowers to wear at the reception.

Since orchids were the dominant feature of the decorations, the guests considered it incumbent upon them to deck themselves with that rare and delicate flower of the hothouse.

MISS JENNIE CROCKER NOW MRS. MALCOLM WHITMAN.

Henry Maier, an horticultural expert, who has charge of Miss Crocker's conservatories on her Hillsborough estate, received instructions to procure the entire orchid supply of the peninsula and convert the church into a veritable bower of the exotics. It was the largest and most costly display of the tropical blooms ever seen in the United States.

More brilliant jewels never will be seen in western social functions than those which sparkled among the orchids at the Crocker wedding. The bride herself has jewels valued at $100,000.

To insure the safety of the jewels of bride and guests, Henry T. Scott, who has managed the Crocker interests, applied to the board of trustees of Hillsborough for permission to take down a squad of operatives from a detective agency in San Francisco.

All of which will run way up into the thousands. The expense will be borne by the bride out of the $10,000,000 she inherited from her grandfather, who made it mostly by building a great railroad with Chinese coolie labor.

at Winona Lake is Near Its End.

FEATURES IN STORE

Winona Lake, July 16.—The fifth annual summer conference of the Presbyterian Young People from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin will close Tuesday evening after one of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions in its history. Kosciusko Lodge has been the headquarters for the 225 delegates, speakers and class leaders. Dr. James M. Gray of the Moody Bible Institute was the Sunday speaker. On Monday a missionary social of novel features, a steamer ride about the lake and a "stunt night" celebration after a bon-fire contributed delightful variety to the program. Tuesday night, the closing service, will be purpose of consecration night. William Ralph Hall, who has been in charge of the conference, goes from Winona, to attend similar conventions in Tennessee, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania. He is the assistant superintendent of the young people's work for the Presbyterian church and serves each conference in the capacity of leader.

The Dixie Chorus, in their Thursday afternoon and evening programs, promises to be one of the hits of the season. A concert number will be given in the afternoon and on Thursday evening they will present "The Epic of the Negro." This is a story of the history of the race, from its birth in Africa, through its periods of slavery and emancipation, to its present-day condition. It is a rare combination of humor, music and sentiment, and is presented by a group of happy entertainers. The Dixie Quartette recently appeared in the "Joy Night" program, when their numbers proved very popular.

The athletic tournaments of the week of August 13 at Winona Lake are already attracting wide-spread interest. E. G. Mellick, the manager, reports that numerous outside inquiries have already been made, and that a large entry list is assured. Both tennis and croquet players will find worthy competitors then.

Sunday at Winona was a day of religious activity. Dr. James M. Gray, the Dean of the Moody Bible Institute, preached at the morning service and Prof. E. O. Excell was present for the first time to direct the music and the large choir. At the Hillsdale meeting Dr. Samuel Black, pastor of the Collingwood Presbyterian church at Toledo, Ohio, spoke. Over a thousand attended the Sunday school, there were many at the afternoon service and at the evening meetings of the "Winona Men," the Y. W. C. A. and the Bethany Girls, as well as at the session of the Presbyterian Young People's conference at Kosciusko Lodge.

One hundred delegates from all parts of the United States are expected to attend the annual summer conference of the Friends' Young People, which meets at the Kosciusko Lodge, during the week of July 20-27. Miss Lillian E. Hayes is in direct charge of the conference, and has arranged a program of many attractive features.

New York, July 16.—Miss Catherine Ritchie, of Edinburgh, Scotland, traveled across the ocean alone to be married to Alexander Horschburgh, of Yonkers, by the Rev. Paul Stratton, who advises young men to marry as soon as they earn $15 per week. The ceremony was performed at Horschburgh's home.

In addressing the Young Men's Christian association recently Mr. Stratton declared any couple could live happily and save money on an income of $15, if the wife was not extravagant.

Miss Ritchie heard of these views and endorsed them. When Horschburgh proposed to her by mail she agreed to cross the ocean and marry him if Mr. Stratton performed the ceremony.

As soon as she arrived Horschburgh telephoned to the pastor that he was earning $15 a week, and was ready to follow his advice. Miss Annie Denniston and James Neill were the attendants.

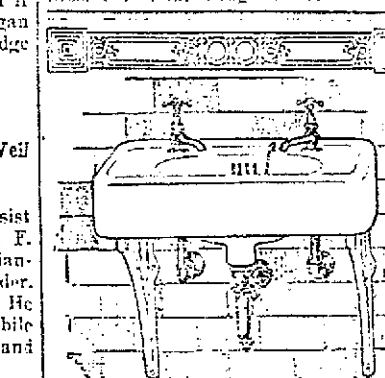

Pastor Stratton is breaking the record for marriages. He married Miss Annie Henderson to Charles Steele and Miss Katherine Nelson to Bernard Machan. These, also, were attracted by Mr. Stratton's views on married life.

VOTING ON EXCURSION

Electric Employees to Settle Outing Question Today.

PENNSY ATHLETES HAVE AN ELECTION

Put Hugh T. Hogan at Head of the Roster—Shop and Rail.

The sentiment is strong among the members of the Electric-Technic club and the employees of the Fort Wayne Electric works for an excursion and it is quite likely that one will be given. The shops are being canvassed today, the men being given an opportunity to vote for an excursion to Cedar Point or Michigan City or for a field day and Cedar Point is running ahead three to one. As a result of this sentiment for an excursion, President Bremer has called a special meeting for this evening, at which the matter will be settled. The Nickel Plate has made a rate of $1.25 for shop employees and $1.50 for outsiders to Cedar Point and $1 to Michigan City and it is expected that the Lake Shore will make a similar offer, in which case the choice of route will have to be decided tonight. It is the desire of the majority of those who have expressed their views on the date of the proposed event that it be either July 27 or August 3, but the Sentinel will be able to give more definite information concerning the matter tomorrow. The excursion committee is composed of J. R. Pulver, C. H. Heckler, and C. A. Kramer.

ATHLETES HAVE ELECTION.

Pennsylvania Employees Getting Ready For Field Day.

The Pennsylvania Employees Athletic association held its annual meeting last night, elected officers and made preliminary arrangements for field day, which will be held at the Driving park, Saturday, August 21. The election resulted as follows:

President, H. T. Hogan.
Vice President, E. L. Littot.
Treasurer, Fred H. Hilgeman.
Secretary, F. S. Doriot.
It developed at the meeting that the interest taken in the annual field day is greater this year than in any of the previous years. There was a sentiment last night for a greater variety of events and to have more of them open to the general public, for instance, the motorcycle races. Last year this part of the program was the most attractive feature of all. There were six races and in one the main prize for all race—there were sixteen prizes and greater inducements for entries in this event and one of the most interesting motorcycle races ever witnessed on the driving park track will be the result.

TAKES UP THE LAW EARLY.

Columbus, Ind., July 16.—Although Edgar Laurie, eight years old, who lives with his great-uncle, William C. Smith, deputy sheriff of Bartholomew county, has not been admitted to the bar here, he is showing many characteristics of an attorney. When a trial was held in the circuit court this week the boy obtained a note book and pencil and took a seat at one of the counsel tables. Three lawyers were seated at the table and they decided to humor the boy. He took notes of every bit of testimony submitted and while he was a little hazy as to details he got all the names of witnesses right. Whenever the attorneys held a conference Edgar was right in the middle of it and no detail of the case escaped him. Smith declares he is going to ask that Laurie be admitted to the bar at the September term of court.

HOFFMAN HAS A PLATFORM.

Twelfth District Congressional Aspirant Submits His Principles.

P. V. Hoffman, of Auburn, one of the republican candidates for the congressional nomination from the Twelfth district, has just issued a pamphlet which sets forth the platform on which he desires to enter the congressional race. The eighteen planks contained in Mr. Hoffman's platform are in no way in contravention of any principles contained in the republican national platform, although some of them go further than it does.

When Mr. Hoffman entered the race one of the first questions considered by him as an instrument to wage his campaign was the establishment of a national industrial bureau, and this is included in his platform. He advocates that cabinet officers should be at the head of such a bureau, with departments in various localities to collect data and ascertain the product of factories and mines, and what per cent should go to the wage earner.

Among other things advocated by the Auburn man are a workmen's compensation law, rigid sanitation, and tenement, sweat shop and child labor laws to be enforced through a national commission. Next in line comes trusts, and a mode for conserving our national resources.

So on he goes down the list of progressive party ideas and touches briefly upon the banking reform, national waterways protective tariff, industrial and agricultural schools, a minimum wage law, public hospitals, a national income tax, the creation of a national marine and last, but not least, the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors except as carried on by the government.

Chronic Diseases Cured

The scientific process employed by Dr. Hardman in the treatment of chronic diseases has been a revelation, not alone to the many satisfied and cured patients whom he has treated, but has been a wonder and envy of many physicians, who unfortunately for them are not in possession of the wonderful and valuable methods employed by the doctor in treating these difficult cases.

The process he employs in treating these diseases, which affect the general constitution, is that of introducing his special medicines directly into the circulation, thereby bringing it directly into contact with the poisoned blood and the diseased organs.

The treatment is so rapid and astonishing in its effects that there is no wonder that the patients are gratified at the marvelous results. When you consider the fact that such diseases as TUBERCULOSIS, ANAEMIA, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, DIABETES, BLOOD POISON, RHEUMATISM, etc., yield almost instantly to this method of treatment there is little wonder at the extraordinary amount of business that the doctor is doing. Not only has he cured apparently hopeless cases but being a skillful chemist and a man of recognized scientific ability, he is constantly developing and perfecting new and original methods, for the betterment of the sick and afflicted.

Besides the diseases already mentioned he has perfected methods of curing PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT, RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, STRICTURE, ETC., without the use of the knife and without detention from business.

His success in this respect is so well known that it needs but little comment. If you are suffering from any of the diseases he treats it will pay you many times over to call and see him, get his advice, WHICH IS FREE, and it may not only be the means of restoring you to health but even saving your life.

Do not postpone it any longer, you cannot afford it.

The doctor does not treat any patients FREE except where they actually cannot afford it, and does not believe that any self-respecting person would ask something so valuable for nothing. It has taken years of the hardest kind of study and investigation to develop the superior kind of methods that he employs and he expects his patients to recompense him for the unusual effort and expense he has taken for their welfare. Only self-respecting persons, or those who appreciate their health and the very best treatment the world affords, are invited to consult him.

THE MARKETS

DROP ON WHEAT OF THREE CENTS

Quoted Locally at $1.05

Crop Outlook is More

Encouraging.

FLOUR IS ON DECLINE

The feature of the local markets today was the three cents drop on wheat. It declined from $1.08 to $1.05 due to the fact that the crop outlook is more encouraging. The reports previously sent out were that the wheat had been greatly damaged by the rust. Encouraging reports regarding the yield also came from Minnesota and Kansas. While the crop in this vicinity will be decidedly short not amounting to anything, particularly in the northwest and south-west it will be good. The decline in wheat has brought flour down twenty cents a barrel on all grades. Country produce shows comparatively few changes. On the commission market there was a slight reduction on eggs, but not enough to materially affect the retail quotations being 20 to 22 cents. Potatoes are selling at $2.75 per barrel and a little change is expected during the next few days. The market is very dull as a rule, the farmers being busy in their fields and but little produce coming to the city.

How to Protect Hair and Skin in Summer

Summer months are trying on the hair, because of the excessive perspiration and the great amount of dust flying. This dulls the hair and makes it "matty" and unmanageable, yet it is easy to restore the rich color and massy softness and keep the hair bright and pretty during the hottest weather by shampooing with canthor. A teaspoonful of which dissolved in a cup of hot water is enough for a thorough cleansing.

Oiliness, freckles, tan and other complexion disfigurements disappear following the use of a spumax lotion. This is made by stirring 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine into ½ pint witch hazel (or hot water), then adding 4 ounces spumax. The lotion dries quickly, is invisible when on and imparts a delightful tint and velvety smoothness to the skin. Perspiration will not spot the spumax lotion nor will the wind blow it off.

BIG FIRST NIGHT FOR CARNIVAL

Buffaloes Start Show With "Tent Filled" Signs at Opener.

SOMETHING EXTRA

The Buffalo carnival opened its engagement last night to one of the largest crowds ever present at an opening night of a similar event in the city of Fort Wayne. From the time the first show opened till the last one closed the crowd was continually waiting for a new show to start, and many times during the evening the "tent filled" sign was seen. The refreshment stands did a land-office business and the smaller concessions, such as "three shots for a nickel," and "ring a knife, only ten cents for five throws," were busy all the evening.

There are many amusements on the grounds, and those who attended the opening night found not a dull minute during their stay. The band, which is making such a hit by its daily concerts on the transfer corner, was first at one tent and then at another, and the way the crowd followed the musicians showed how well they appreciated their music.

An added feature of today's program, which was not shown last night because the tank could not be filled in time, is a high dive of seventy feet into a tank of water five feet ten inches deep. The attraction is a free one and will be shown twice a day—in the afternoon and at night.

ALL OUT DOORS FOR PLAY THEN

Mayor Grice Shows Contrast Between Old and Present Times.

SPACE IS NARROWED

"I hope you will come out well with your playground benefit," remarked Mayor Grice to a member of the Fort Wayne Playground association's executive committee, referring to Pain's "Last Days of Pompeii." "The work of the playground association should appeal to all the people of Fort Wayne and as this entertainment, as I understand it, is to be given for the benefit of the playground association, I feel sure it will have the cordial and generous support of many thousands of our people."

Mr. Grice then became reminiscent and recalled that in his boyhood days it was not necessary to provide playgrounds for boys and girls. He said that when he was a boy he worked on a farm and he had all out-doors in which to exercise his legs and arms and mostly the exercise was with a plow and a horse or perhaps a pitchfork or a hoe.

"Most of our fun in the summer time," said the mayor, who spent most of his life in connection with the farm, "was at the old swimming hole. We used to play ball some, but after the day's work it was more fun to go in swimming than to play ball. In the winter time there was some skating, but there were many chores for the boy to do so that I never lacked for exercise in the family in which I lived when I was a kid. The times have changed. We are becoming a people who build cities and while it is to be regretted that more boys don't stay on the farm, it is hard to blame the boys and girls who want to get out into the world and see what they can do in the cities. It is hard to blame them also for the reason that in the cities there are regular hours of work with wages which are sufficient to enable them to live and enjoy themselves in a social way more attractive to most young men and women than the restricted social life of the country. This rush to the cities, of course, makes it necessary to provide places for them to live and work to do and these houses demand space so that the boys and girls born in cities have been having every year less and less space in which to enjoy the sports and games that every boy and girl should have. The cities have been driving the boys and girls into the alleys, railroad yards, lumber yards and to foul river banks to play and it is time that the people of the cities wake up and give to the boys the sports and other forms of play that they should have in order that they may become upright, useful, patriotic American citizens."

"I am heartily in favor of the playground work, therefore, because I have seen since I came to Fort Wayne, the great need of some place for the children to have the fun that is due them during their childhood days. It takes money, of course, to carry out these ideas and make them practical in the way of playgrounds with teachers in charge and I am glad to see that there is such an association in Fort Wayne which is doing this splendid work for the children. It has been demonstrated that children can have just as much fun when their play is orderly, and under the care of teachers who understand children, as when they are left to themselves to roam over the city and yield to the first impulse, or trespass upon property where they should not go and perhaps learn to destroy property. I see no other way than the playgrounds to open opportunity for the children to learn something with their play that makes good character and I believe that the playground discipline helps to lay the foundation for traits of character which will make them better men and women and better Americans when they grow up. The times have changed since the days when I was a boy and we must change conditions to suit the times. That's why I understand the playground association needs the money from this benefit."

TEETH

Your physician will tell you that good care of the teeth is essential to health, good appetite and digestion. Good teeth give satisfaction. Bad teeth give trouble. No teeth are so good that care will not make them better. No person's teeth are so bad that they can't be improved; sometimes only a little, generally a great deal. Care is easy, wise, economical, healthy and thrifty. Neglect is bad for teeth, injurious to health, bad in taste, and expensive in the end.

Waiting for a more favorable time to cure for the teeth is more expensive than the dental operation itself anyway you figure it. It costs money, trouble and teeth to wait.

NOW is the time to have your dental work done. Filling and crowning teeth that can be saved; supplying new teeth where those of nature are missing, and extracting teeth that are beyond repair, are three points of superiority, each emphasized by low charges, that you find at this office.

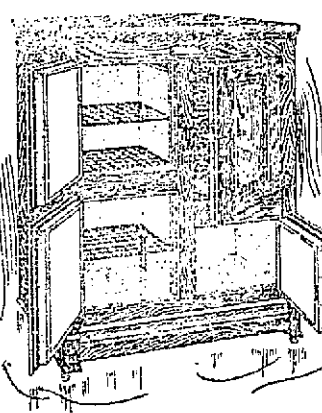

Approved methods, mechanical ingenuity, clean and pleasant surroundings and careful, conscientious operating will make your experience anything but disagreeable. Every form of dental work has my best care.

The location is at 916 Calhoun street, over App's shoe store. Sign reads: Dr. J. C. Lehman, Dentist.

You are invited to call and have your teeth examined and get an estimate on the work you wish to have done. No charge for this.
